Emergency Shelters Prepare for More Rain

Two Emergency Shelters Open for Homeless Residents in Downtown Los Angeles and San Fernando Valley

Los Angeles, CA - December 16, 2014 - Hope of the Valley Rescue Mission has two cold weather shelters now open offering 132 beds, hot showers, hot dinner and breakfast, case management and a secure and warm place to sleep.

WHERE:

Pacoima: Greater Community Missionary Baptist Church 11066 Norris Ave. (Includes 5 p.m. pick up in Glendale at 5101 San Fernando Rd. and 5:30 pick up in Sun Valley at 8165 San Fernando Road.)

Downtown Los Angeles: Skid Row on the 4th floor of the Weingart Center on the corner of San Pedro and 6th Street.

WHEN:

The cold weather shelters open at 6 p.m. and close at 7 a.m. Walk ins are first come first serve.

During the day those seeking shelter are brought to our Access Center where we provide not only warm shelter and a hot lunch, but also access to computers, case management, support classes and more to help move people out of homelessness.

INTERVIEWS:

CEO Ken Craft is available for interviews in English.

Director of Food Services Lori Craft is available for interviews in Spanish.

Please contact Stephanie Abrams at 323-999-4489 to arrange for an interview or to take video or pictures at one of our properties.

ABOUT HOPE OF THE VALLEY:

Hope of the Valley Rescue Mission demonstrates compassionate concern for individuals lacking means to provide food, shelter, and clothing for themselves and their families. We believe everyone regardless of race, ethnicity, political persuasion or religious affiliation are entitled to receive essential life services.
